HIGH SCHOOLS AND DEMOCRACY

Have Important Task in Preserving Spirit of Americanism.

THREE MODIFICATIONS

Miss Bradford Makes Plea For Support of Junior Red Cross in Adams County.

"High Schools have the particular task of preserving the democracy that our boys fought for," said Dr. William D. Lewis, deputy State Superintendent of Education in his address this morning before the Teachers' Institute on the subject "Education for the New Democracy." "Three modifications in these schools must be made in order to do this," Dr. Lewis continued.

"First: By giving equal opportunities to all. Formerly they were largely occupied by serving the students that were preparing for college. Now they must give the boy that is preparing to be a merchant, farmer, or a mechanic an equal chance the same as the boy who is preparing for college."

"Second: The teaching of the essentials of citizenship. More in the way of civics, economics, sociology and a new kind of history. This new history should show more of the development of civilization and not so much of reproductions. Newspapers and magazines should be part of the class equipment, especially Weekly Periodicals such as The Outlook, The Independent and The Literary Digest."

"Third: Schools should be run more as democracies and less as despotisms. The school should be the democracy and the pupils the citizens. This doesn't mean that the teachers or principals should lose one iota of their authority, but that some of the functions of the school should be given to the management of the students under close supervision. In this way they will learn the process of democracy, by really participating in school democracy."

After the devotional exercises by Dr. A. E. Wagner and the singing led by Dr. Taylor, Dr. Pearson addressed the assemblage on "The School and the Community." He said "What is integrity? It is wholeness, holiness and completeness. There can be no imperfection if there is to be integrity. There are three kinds of integrity: Biblical, Mental and Moral."

"We take animals to county fairs and show them off because of their perfection. But we never show off the thousands of human beings that are in the state institutions. Why? Because they are not perfect. The draft boards found one-third of our young men physically unfit for military service. Anyone physically unfit can't do a man or woman's work in this world. They lack integrity. Yet there is no plan to rectify this trouble, except to cultivate the habit of absolutely clean living."

He went on telling about the state institution inmates saying in many cases they were paying the bill for their grandfather's lack of integrity.

Wednesday Afternoon
After the singing and the Reading Course Committee's report, by Harper Wentz, Dr. Pearson started on his subject of "Loyalty."

SACRIFICE GIFTS FOR HOSPITAL

Floradale Boys And Girls Show Genuine Christmas Spirit.

COLLECTION SWELLS FUND

Passing of Hat Raises Total of Above $10.00. Agreed Unanimously to Suggestion of Teacher.

The true Christmas spirit of cheerful giving instead of eager receiving was brought into actual practice by the children of the Fairmount School of Floradale, above Bendersville, who decided to do without Christmas presents from their teacher in order to donate the money to the Annie M. It is an annual custom at the Fairmount school, which holds its session in the Quaker Meeting House opposite the residence of C. J. Last year Miss Flora Witherow, of Fairfield, teacher of the school, bought candy for all the pupils and was in turn presented with a handsome fountain pen and pearl handled knife.

During a discussion a few days ago the pupils were unanimous in their opinion that something should be done to swell the fund for the hospital but they were at a loss to know just how the money should be raised.

MAY LIGHT TOWN IN FIVE WEEKS

Arendtsville Enveloped in Darkness Since Myers Plant Burned.

WILL BUILD NEW MILL

Robert B. Myers Says New Establishment Will Turn Out Forty Five Barrels of Flour Daily.

Electric lights which have been an unknown quantity in Arendtsville since the power plant and flour mill of Robert B. Myers burned last Wednesday, will be used again in about four or five weeks if plans contemplated by Mr. Myers are successfully carried out.

Not only the mill located on the eastern edge of Arendtsville but also the electric light plant owned by Robert Myers which furnished current for all the streets and fifty five houses in Arendtsville, was completely destroyed by the raging fire. As a result the people of that town have been greatly inconvenienced during the past days by lack of adequate street and house lighting.

If weather conditions do not prevent it is the intention of Mr. Myers to erect a temporary building in about five weeks which will cover a gasoline motor of sufficient power to furnish the town with light. An electrical engineer from Baltimore is already working on the proposed installation but the extremely cold weather prevents rapid work and makes the task of clearing debris exceedingly difficult.

Prior to being burned to the ground the Myers mill had the reputation of being one of the best equipped establishments of its kind in Adams county, but Mr. Myers says that a new mill he intends to erect will surpass his old one.

"Millwrights have been consulted," said Mr. Myers, "and equipment for a larger and better mill will be ordered in the near future. The new establishment will be modern in every sense of the word and will be able to produce forty five barrels of flour every day."

PAL OF WALLACE FOUND GUILTY

Case of Irvin Martz Attracts Curious Crowd at Frederick Court.

Irvin Martz, alleged yeggman and companion of Clarence Wallace, who was shot and killed a few days ago by detectives in Santa Barbara, California, while resisting arrest, was convicted by a Frederick jury Wednesday night of burglary, after an all-day trial. The courtroom was packed with people from every section of the county, and as the jury filed in with a verdict, Judge Wadsworth warned the crowd against a demonstration.

On the witness stand, Martz testified that Wallace suggested that they go to Frederick on a fishing trip. Arriving in that city late in the evening, they walked about town until nearly midnight when they stopped in front of a building which Wallace entered. He said Wallace told him to remain outside until he came. Later he heard a muffled sound which he thought was freight cars crashing together. Wallace then came out, handed him a satchel and the two walked a short distance in the country and boarded a trolley car for Thurmont. At the latter place, he got on a Western Maryland train for Baltimore and just before the train left, was arrested. He denied that he knew anything about the robberies, and was ignorant of a crime having been committed.

The prosecution showed that Martz had been captured with a hand satchel containing an electric drill, stick of dynamite, a number of steel drills, a sack of money, flashlight and other burglar tools.

It was testified that Wallace entered the warehouse of George B. Kehne, and while blowing open the safe, Martz remained on guard outside with a flashlight. With the exception of the dynamite, the burglar outfit was placed on a table before the jury.

The conviction of Martz and the death of Wallace constitute the final chapter of one of the boldest robberies ever committed in Frederick followed by the murder of Leo M. Creager.

One commodity has been discovered that has not advanced in price.

Christmas trees, considered almost a necessity in many homes to bring pleasure to children, are selling at the same prices as last year according to the first salesman now displaying his wares at the Court House.

White pine trees are bringing $1.25, big cedar $1.00, and the smaller varieties, including spruce, seventy five and fifty cents.

Although Christmas trees are being displayed at only one place at the present time a great number of men will arrive from the mountain on Saturday when the increased sale of trees will commence.

SHOPPING RUSH IN FULL SWING

Higher Prices Has Not Curbed the Christmas Spirit Say Merchants.

SEASON SLOW STARTING

Trade is Normal With More Money Changing Hands. Average Increase in Price of Gifts About 40 Per Cent.

The rush of Christmas shopping is in full swing.

Gettysburg shoppers have awakened to the fact that Christmas is only one week—five full buying days—away and despite the severe weather Wednesday night brought crowds of gift seekers. While the rush is on now the real drive will start Saturday and will as usual continue until late Christmas eve.

While the Christmas buyers were slower this year than usual in getting started Gettysburg merchants without exception are satisfied with the amount of business they have done thus far and expect to see their stock dwindle rapidly during the last four shopping days.

"My Christmas trade this year is just about normal. I am taking in more money but my clerks are waiting on about the same number of customers as usual," said one merchant Wednesday night when asked about shoppers and shopping. His expression of opinion is that of practically ninety per cent of all the town merchants. It is estimated by business men who have been carefully following the advance in prices that a merchant should receive forty per cent more cash this season in order to equal the amount of business done last year.

While the majority of the merchants expressed satisfaction that the higher prices had not affected business there were a few who said the amount of sales and number of customers had far surpassed that of any year they have been in business. "Gifts that can be used" seems to be the slogan of the shoppers, many of whom are passing up the luxuries for the necessities of life. The Christmas spirit has not been curbed in the least by the doubling of prices and as the season comes to an end the rush of those who put off buying has commenced. "The only effect from the high prices I have noticed," said one well known merchant, "is that it delayed the opening of the season."

The almost zero weather of the mornings this week has put a noticeable crimp in the number of early buyers and it is not until afternoon that the shoppers put in their appearance.

The Teachers' Institute here this week has also had its effect and seems to have given an impetus to the local shoppers. All stores are well supplied with additional clerks in many cases students who are vacationing while the teachers are in session.

STOCK REPORT

Break in British Exchange Causes Slump in Market.

(By Associated Press)

New York, December 18—Unsettled sentiment was created during the early period in the stock market this morning by an abrupt break in British exchange which fell five cents under yesterday's final quotation. Rails lost ground, low priced issues falling 1 to 4 points with standard shares. Reactions in oils, motors, and steels also increased the break, Texas Company extending its declines 15 points. Shipping, equipment, leathers, tobacco and food issues fell 1 to 2 1/2 points. The market developed a firmer tone at noon with short coverings on the 6 per cent rate for call money.

ed of by Decree.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, December 18—A dozen or more important side line industries of the Chicago Meat packers involving investments of many millions of dollars will be disposed of under the stipulated decree soon to be entered into the United States court at Washington on a motion of Attorney General Palmer.

While some of the packers today declined to discuss the details of the decrees under which the packers in the future will be required to confine their business activities to the production of meat, butter, eggs and cheese, it was learned from others that the outline of the plan had been agreed upon.

MAY LIGHT TOWN IN FIVE WEEKS

Arendtsville Enveloped in Darkness Since Myers Plant Burned.

WILL BUILD NEW MILL

Robert B. Myers Says New Establishment Will Turn Out Forty Five Barrels of Flour Daily.

Electric lights which have been an unknown quantity in Arendtsville since the power plant and flour mill of Robert B. Myers burned last Wednesday, will be used again in about four or five weeks if plans contemplated by Mr. Myers are successfully carried out.

Not only the mill located on the eastern edge of Arendtsville but also the electric light plant owned by Robert Myers which furnished current for all the streets and fifty five houses in Arendtsville, was completely destroyed by the raging fire. As a result the people of that town have been greatly inconvenienced during the past days by lack of adequate street and house lighting.

If weather conditions do not prevent it is the intention of Mr. Myers to erect a temporary building in about five weeks which will cover a gasoline motor of sufficient power to furnish the town with light. An electrical engineer from Baltimore is already working on the proposed installation but the extremely cold weather prevents rapid work and makes the task of clearing debris exceedingly difficult.

Prior to being burned to the ground the Myers mill had the reputation of being one of the best equipped establishments of its kind in Adams county, but Mr. Myers says that a new mill he intends to erect will surpass his old one.

"Millwrights have been consulted," said Mr. Myers, "and equipment for a larger and better mill will be ordered in the near future. The new establishment will be modern in every sense of the word and will be able to produce forty five barrels of flour every day."

PAL OF WALLACE FOUND GUILTY

Case of Irvin Martz Attracts Curious Crowd at Frederick Court.

Irvin Martz, alleged yeggman and companion of Clarence Wallace, who was shot and killed a few days ago by detectives in Santa Barbara, California, while resisting arrest, was convicted by a Frederick jury Wednesday night of burglary, after an all-day trial. The courtroom was packed with people from every section of the county, and as the jury filed in with a verdict, Judge Wadsworth warned the crowd against a demonstration.

On the witness stand, Martz testified that Wallace suggested that they go to Frederick on a fishing trip. Arriving in that city late in the evening, they walked about town until nearly midnight when they stopped in front of a building which Wallace entered.

He said Wallace told him to remain outside until he came. Later he heard a muffled sound which he thought was freight cars crashing together. Wallace then came out, handed him a satchel and the two walked a short distance in the country and boarded a trolley car for Thurmont. At the latter place, he got on a Western Maryland train for Baltimore and just before the train left, was arrested. He denied that he knew anything about the robberies, and was ignorant of a crime having been committed.

The prosecution showed that Martz had been captured with a hand satchel containing an electric drill, stick of dynamite, a number of steel drills, a sack of money, flashlight and other burglar tools.

It was testified that Wallace entered the warehouse of George B. Kehne, and while blowing open the safe, Martz remained on guard outside with a flashlight. With the exception of the dynamite, the burglar outfit was placed on a table before the jury.

The conviction of Martz and the death of Wallace constitute the final chapter of one of the boldest robberies ever committed in Frederick followed by the murder of Leo M. Crenger.

PRICES REMAIN SAME

Christmas Trees Unaffected by Soar-ing Figures of Other Commodities.

One commodity has been discovered that has not advanced in price.

Christmas trees, considered almost a necessity in many homes to bring pleasure to children, are selling at the same prices as last year according to the first salesman now displaying his wares at the Court House.

White pine trees are bringing $1.25, big cedar $1.00, and the smaller varieties, including spruce, seventy five and fifty cents.

Although Christmas trees are being displayed at only one place at the present time a great number of men will arrive from the mountain on Saturday when the increased sale of trees will commence.

DEBATE KILLS SUGAR LAW

tracted debate by the opposition. The House amendment would broaden the powers proposed for the United States

SHOPPING RUSH IN FULL SWING

Higher Prices Has Not Curbed
the Christmas Spirit Say Merchants.

SEASON SLOW STARTING

Trade is Normal With More Money
Changing Hands. Average Increase in Price of Gifts About 40 Per Cent.

The rush of Christmas shopping is in full swing.

Gettysburg shoppers have awakened to the fact that Christmas is only one week—five full buying days—away and despite the severe weather Wednesday night brought crowds of gift seekers. While the rush is on now the real drive will start Saturday and will as usual continue until late Christmas eve.

While the Christmas buyers were slower this year than usual in getting started Gettysburg merchants without exception are satisfied with the amount of business they have done thus far and expect to see their stock dwindle rapidly during the last four shopping days.

"My Christmas trade this year is just about normal. I am taking in more money but my clerks are waiting on about the same number of customers as usual," said one merchant.
Wednesday night when asked about shoppers and shopping. His expression of opinion is that of practically ninety per cent of all the town merchants. It is estimated by business men who have been carefully following the advance in prices that a merchant should receive forty per cent more cash this season in order to equal the amount of business done last year.

While the majority of the merchants expressed satisfaction that the higher prices had not affected business there were a few who said the amount of sales and number of customers had far surpassed that of any year they have been in business.

"Gifts that can be used" seems to be the slogan of the shoppers, many of whom are passing up the luxuries for the necessities of life. The Chris-mas spirit has not been curbed in the least by the doubling of prices and as the season comes to an end the rush of those who put off buying has commenced. "The only effect from the high prices I have noticed," said one well known merchant, "is that it delayed the opening of the season."

The almost zero weather of the mornings this week has put a noticeable crimp in the number of early buyers and it is not until afternoon that the shoppers put in their appearance.

The Teachers' Institute here this week has also had its effect and seems to have given an impetus to the local shoppers. All stores are well supplied with additional clerks in many cases students who are vacationing while the teachers are in session.

REVIEWS LOCAL FARM INSTITUTES

some weeds so that control will be very difficult indeed. So many of our crop pests have been brought by importations from abroad. The potato wart disease is another pest from Europe. It started in 1911 and 1912 and so far the only known means of combatting this is to use varieties that are immune—one of these is the Irish Cobbler.

There is no excuse for Cedar Rust when we can save our apple crop by cutting down a few worthless red cedar trees. These rust spheres will carry a distance of several miles. There is not much gained by manuring apple trees. Cultivation and cover crops are much better when added to proper pruning and spraying.

Cabbage seed soaked in a teaspoon of formalin to a pint of water will prevent black leg and other root diseases of cabbage.

Robert E. Atkinson reviewed "The Value of Lime, Legumes, and Livestock as Soil Builders", saying, many farms are starved. Commercial fertilizer supplies acid and phosphorus. Corn, oats, wheat, clover, and timothy make too long a rotation. Cut out timothy and buy no fertilizer. One good crop of clover every four years will give enough nitrogen for the other three crops if they are fed on the place and manure put back. If no livestock is kept the clover must be plowed down and none taken off. The average Pennsylvania soil does not have enough humus or organic matter. It has an unlimited amount of potash if we supply enough organic matter to liberate same. Manure left in the yard six months loses 50 per cent or more of its value. In connection with livestock we must have one or two good legume crops every four years which will not only increase the nitrogen content but also increase production at least 25 per cent. Lime in the soil makes it possible to grow legumes. None of these will grow in a sour soil. If we add to the fertilizer every year our land will increase in value. Inoculation even for red clover pays big. Raising plenty of legumes is the best proposition on the farm.

Mrs. Longsufferer—"You must be more careful with the china. That was a complete 80-piece dinner set when you came." Tilly, the Maid—"But I'm savin' the pieces, ma'am, an' you have a thousand by this time."

SIGNS OF TREATY COMPROMISE

Senators Agree That Politics Should be Forgotten Now.

ACTION MAY COME SOON

Senator Knox Brings up Document in Midst of Discussion on Railroad Bill.

Washington, December 18.—Expressions that seemed to point toward a reopening of the peace treaty fight within a few weeks were voiced on the Senate floor Wednesday when the subject bobbed up in the midst of consideration of the Railroad Bill.

The symposium of views that went into the Record during the brief debate included opinions from virtually all factions of the divided Senate membership, but they all struck a note of conciliation. Differing widely in their suggestions for a solution, they stood together on the general proposition that politics ought to be forgotten and that the Senate, acting independently of executive opinion, ought to do something promptly to end suspense and establish a state of peace.

The discussion reflected the trend of negotiations which have been in progress privately among senators for an agreement that would get the question finally out of the way. There was increased activity in that direction during the day and some of the leaders predicted some formal action early in the new year.

Started by Knox

Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, a leader in the irreconcilable Republican group of treaty opponents and a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, brought the subject to the floor by another attempt to get before the Senate his two resolutions to establish a state of peace. The effort was blocked, but he obtained unanimous consent to send the measures to the committee, where he expects to renew his request for action.

A plea made by Senator Knox for some sort of a settlement was seconded by Senator Smith, of Georgia, a reservation Democrat, who declared the time had come to stop academic discussion of who held up the treaty and get together in a give-and-take effort for compromise. Action also was urged by Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, one of the mild reservation Republicans, and by Senator Myers, of Montana, a Democrat, who voted last session for some reservations and also for unreserved ratification.

In the compromise negotiations proceeding at private conferences among senators the principal activity seemed to be among the Democrats, the Republican reservationists indicating that they awaited some concrete proposal from the other side of the aisle. The Democratic managers were hopeful that such an agreement soon would be reached, but they predicted it would not take tangible form until after the holidays.

Underwood Not In Revolt

Among the Democrats there was much discussion of the possible effect of the compromise negotiations on the contest between Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, and Senator Underwood, of Alabama, for election as Democratic leader of the Senate. The negotiations started Tuesday with the mild reservation Republicans were conducted by Senator Underwood's supporters, but he declared last night that while he stood for some sort of compromise, he was not in revolt against President Wilson nor leading any sort of opposition to the treaty.

Consideration of the first of Senator Knox's resolutions which would ratify the treaty in so far as establishment of a state of peace is concerned was blocked by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, while Senator Nelson stopped the second one, proposing merely to declare that a state of peace exists.

ADOPT CHARTER PREAMBLE

The State Constitutional Commission met for the first time Wednesday as a committee of the whole. The preamble and declaration of rights of the Constitution as it stands were adopted without much discussion. George Wharton Pepper went on record as objecting to any change in the jury system of the State, saying that the unanimous verdict in civil cases had been found highly satisfactory. No effort was made to make a change.

FIND NEW CLUE IN DANSEY CASE

Expect Charges to be Withdrawn Against White. More Arrests Expected.

Atlantic City, N. J., December 18.—New evidence has been discovered in the Billy Dansey case, Prosecutor Edmund C. Gaskill, Jr., announced Wednesday, which he believes will result in the arrest of two men.

"If these men are taken into custody it is understood the charges against Charles S. White, of Hammon, and Mrs. Edith L. Jones, housekeeper, for White's father, will be withdrawn.

White was arrested about 10 days ago, charged with the murder of the 3-year-old boy, and Mrs. Jones was accused of helping to conceal the death.

The boy, according to information reaching Prosecutor Gaskill, was slain in a barn near the White dahlia field and within a mile and a half of the Dansey home in Hammon.

A hole has been found near this barn by county detectives, who believe the boy was buried in it. Afterward, according to the detectives, the corpse was removed and placed in the Folsom woods, where it was discovered by gunners.

"The new information we have received is startling," said Mr. Gaskill, "and maybe the solution of the mystery of the Dansey boy's death. I feel confident that two more arrests will be made in the case. I cannot make public the identity of the two men who are under suspicion.

"County detectives working in conjunction with private detectives employed by the White family, discovered this new clue after taking into consideration the testimony of Mrs. Dansey, the mother, at the inquest. She testified she thought she heard Billy screaming.

"We think it entirely possible now that the mother did hear the boy scream in the dahlia field and that two strange men, whose motive for harming the boy I cannot establish yet, kidnapped the boy to kill him later."

Next Miss Agost Borge, supervisor of music in the Gettysburg Schools, rendered several solos. She was immediately followed by Miss Flora A. Bradford, field secretary of the Junior Red Cross, who spoke on the subject of "Junior Red Cross", saying in part:

"Wonderful has been the help America has sent to the European countries, also the comfort and aid sent to our boys 'over there.' It followed them every step of the way. I have traveled all over the west and studied every branch of the Red Cross. A wonderful spirit of service has come over our nation. Shall we stop with this and spend our energy? The Red Cross is a great emergency organization. After it has had such a vision of service, it will go on by the will of the Christian people, for out of the Christian church has come the great leaders. The returning soldiers will lead it on.

"The Red Cross has a big field to work in. There is the re-building of this shattered world, and a great field in suffering Persia."

"All the world is calling to the American Red Cross for help. We should answer it for the sake of humanity." She pleaded for the financial support of the Peace program.

"May we all in this reconstruction period so weave that the fabric will endure and the colors will not fade. May we hail the dawn of a bright new day in this our own beloved land."

At the completion of this address County Superintendent Roth made a plea for the teacher's support in the work of the Junior Red Cross.

Miss Margaret Maguire as the next speaker said on the subject of "Spirit of Discipline":

"Any discipline that is worth while must reach the spirit of the child. Germany misunderstood the spirit of obedience when she taught obedience to authority. Discipline is the by-product of a splendid well-ordered class room and it comes from living well. Do not give unthinking obedience. The machine trained discipline of the German Army crumbled away when it faced the Americans.

"The boys went singing into battle each one responding to the spirit within. The deadliest thing to put into a child's life is fear. Control with love, kindness and understanding."

"What wonderful enthusiasm there is over warfare work!" "But will there be enough poor people to go around?"—Life.

MEXICO SENDS DEFIANT NOTE

Refuses to Stop Legal Proceedings Against Agent Jenkins.

THE REPLY IS DEFIANT

He Will be Tried in Court. Mexico Wants no Dictation From the United States.

Mexico City, December 18.—The Mexican government refuses to relinquish the legal proceedings against William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent at Puebla, in the reply to the latest United States note which has just been forwarded to Washington through the United States Embassy.

The note is defiant in tone and the language in setting forth the attitude of the Mexican government is emphatic.

The note contends that court proceedings affecting an American citizen in Mexico cannot be decided by information supplied by the State Department in Washington, nor by "recommendations" from Washington.

In conclusion the document expresses belief that the Jenkins case will "not affect the harmony, which, it is sincerely desired, shall continue between Mexico and the United States."

Text of Note

The reply was forwarded Wednesday by George Summerlin, the American charge d'affaires. He received it from the Mexican Foreign Office late Tuesday night. The text of the note in part follows:

"Your Excellency, Charge d'affaires George Summerlin:

"With reference to your note of November 30, which Your Excellency transmitted to the Mexican government by order of the United States government, relative to the case of William O. Jenkins, I have the honor to communicate to you that the Mexican government, in answering this note, will confine itself only to a few principal points which it contains without going into strict details, with the object of studying only fixed precedents as according to international jurisprudence and to justify its course in public opinion.

"As Jenkins obtained his liberty by the deposit of bail with the Puebla authorities by a certain American citizen, it is presumed that all ill feeling between both countries disappeared, and that the Jenkins case has taken an entirely different aspect from that which it formerly held.

"The United States government declares that it declines to go into a legal discussion of the various questions arising from the Jenkins case. The Mexican government contrarily to discuss the matter of right in a matter which is naturally judicial, preserves this right if from certain points the evidence is not adequate.

Facts Justify Action

"In its former note the Department of Foreign Affairs explained at length certain points in the belief that the full exposition of the details would justify the legality of the proceedings that have been taken."

MAY VOTE ON TREATY

Questions to be Submitted to College Students.

Students at Gettysburg College will probably be given an opportunity to vote on the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations shortly after they return from the Christmas vacation. The plan has been devised by certain leading college newspapers and it is urged that every college and university in the United States vote on these important questions on January 13. Four propositions are to be voted on as follows:

I favor the ratification of the league and treaty without amendments or reservations.

I am opposed to the ratification of the league and treaty in any form.

I am in favor of the ratification of the treaty and the league, but only with specific reservations as voted by the majority of the Senate.

I favor any compromise on the reservation which will make possible the immediate ratification of the treaty and league.

HIGHWAY FORCE OUT

State Has Snow Removal Service on Some Roads.

The State Highway Department got an opportunity Wednesday to test its snow removal service in some of the mountain counties of the State, County road superintendents Tuesday night ordered the maintenance forces to clear ways on main highways which were found to be so covered as to impede travel. A number of heavy trucks suitable for hauling drags have been sent from here to various places for snow clearing service.

MAY MAKE ARMY STRENGTH 280,000

Reject Proposals For Armed Force of More Than Half Million.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Rejection by House and Senate Military Committees of War Department proposals for a regular army of 576,000 officers and men appeared practically certain last night when Chairman Wadsworth predicted that the Senate Committee would fix the strength of the force at about 280,000. The House Committee has already agreed tentatively on approximately similar program.

"There is no question," said Senator Wadsworth, "but that the Senate Committee in its present frame of mind will not fix the number at more than 280,000 and may possibly cut the number more than that."

Senate sub-committee hearings on the bill were concluded Wednesday, while the House committee took up questions as to the future of the National Guard. The Senate committee hoped to have proposals in shape for the full committee after the holidays.

The Military Policy Committee of the American Legion, composed of Allan A. Tukey, Omaha, Nebraska, chairman; Col. Milton J. Foreman, Chicago, and Thomas W. Miller, of Delaware, explained to the sub-committee Wednesday recommendations of the organization as formulated at its recent convention in Minneapolis. Other witnesses were Col. Abel Davis, Chicago, Illinois, National Guard, and Major General John F. O'Ryan, while the House committee heard Col. R. H. Gillette, Troy, New York, of the National Guard Association.

Under the legion's recommendations only a sufficient standing army for police and overseas garrison purposes should be provided. Universal military training for boys 18 to 20 years of age and a general staff "liberalized by an admixture of citizen officers" was recommended. Continuance of the present officers training camps and a separate department of aeronautics also were favored.

Col. Davis suggested a "limited try out" system to fix the number of men to receive military training which he thought with proper national guard provisions would meet objections of opponents of compulsory training and also give the states forces they need.

TWENTY TWO BELOW COLDEST

New York and New England Thermometers Drop Low.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 18.—Below zero temperatures were registered last night and early today in parts of New York and New England. The lowest temperature reported to the Weather Bureau was 22 degrees below at Northfield, Vermont, while the next lowest was 20 below at Canton, New York. Zero temperature was registered in New York City, at Boston 6 below, Albany 8 below and Buffalo 2 below.

Philadelphia and Atlantic City temperatures of 4 above were recorded, Baltimore 8 above and Washington 10 above.

The Weather Bureau forecasts that the temperature will moderate somewhat in the Middle Atlantic and New England states, the Ohio valley and the Lower Lake region during tonight and Friday.

MAY RESUME TREATY FIGHT

Efforts to Be Made to Declare War at an End.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 18.—Possibility that the Senate Peace Treaty fight may be resumed actively before the holiday recess developed today when the Foreign Relations committee called a meeting for Saturday morning. The purpose of the meeting was not announced but party leaders indicated that an effort would probably be made to get the committee to act on the resolution of Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, to declare a state of peace.

RECOVER EXTRAVAGANCES

Getting Back Money Improperly Spent By Housing Corporation.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The Senate committee appointed to investigate public buildings constructed during the war under the supervision of the Housing Corporation recommended to the Senate today that steps be taken to recover money which, it is charged, was improperly paid for work done by the corporation.

Should persons or corporations receiving the alleged overcharges refuse to make voluntary restitution the committee recommends that civil action be instituted by the government.

NOT ONE TREMOR IN GETTYSBURG

Day That Was to End World More Quiet Than Usual.

December 17, the day that was to bring with it the end of the world, passed quietly in Gettysburg and although the prediction of Professor Porta brought forth much comment and in some cases argument, the day was quiet probably more so than others of the week. The prediction recalls the fact that ever so often some one gets the idea that it is about time for the great cataclysm.

Astrologers have predicted the end of the world on somewhat similar occasions for centuries. As early as 1186 the world escaped one of their threatened cataclysms. Disappointment at the escape did not prevent Stoffler from predicting a universal deluge for the year 1524—a year which, as it turned out, was distinguished for drought.

Mother Shipton, "witch" of Tudor times, was credited with being equally sure that 400 years after her time—in 1881, to be exact—the world would come to an end. The prediction caused much agitation in England when the date she set arrived. Thousands of persons deserted their homes and went out into the fields to await annihilation.

Various religious cults have made a specialty in more recent years of specifying an hour as the earth's last, setting forth scriptural or pseudo-scientific arguments in support of their contentions.

Professor Albert F. Porta, a meteorologist, gets the credit for first thinking up the recent catastrophe.

RAIL BILL IN SENATE

Section Dealing With Labor And Strikes Discussed.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 18.—Resuming consideration of the railroad bill today the Senate took up the most distorted section—that dealing with labor including anti-strike provisions.

Under unanimous consent agreement to a vote will be had first on the motion of Senator Stanley, Democrat, Ky., to strike out the entire labor section. If that is defeated substitutes proposed by Senators McCormick, Republican, Illinois, and Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, will then be considered.

DOCTOR LOSES SUIT

Jury Believes Old Minister Had Paid Physician's Fees.

Middleburg, Pa., Dec. 18.—After several hours' deliberation, the jury in the $10,000 suit of Dr. E. C. Williams against the Rev. A. S. Bierly, the most sensational and expensive case ever tried in the Snyder county court, on Tuesday afternoon gave a verdict for the defendant.

It was a victory for the aged pastor, and it is likely that the costs which amounted to at least several hundred dollars a day for a week, will have to be paid by the physician.

The jury accepted the story of the clergyman that he had paid in full for medical service to his daughter, Miss Verna, with his $250 check. They also accepted the statement of the experts for the defense that the charges of $100 a visit and $500 a month for attending the girl were "preposterous."

The damaging evidence concerning her relations with Dr. Williams overbalanced evidence she gave against her father and in favor of the man with whom she is now living.

Dr. Williams, like the pastor, is a man of means, and has a large practice at his office in Port Trevorton. The sums involved in the case could well be afforded by either the principals.

SOLDIER GETS JAIL SENTENCE

One Year For Swartzbaugh Who Robbed Hanover Store.

One year in jail was the sentence given to Ray W. Swartzbaugh, a soldier in the United States army and formerly a resident of Hanover, by the York county court, for breaking into the store of C. P. Rutt, of Hanover on December 5 and stealing a lot of clothing valued at $426. The defendant, who pleaded guilty to the charges against him, had no criminal record in that county, but admitted he had been in trouble in Washington. At a recent hearing in York, he said he would not mind staying a year in the York county jail.

Rising from his seat and facing his schoolmates eleven year old Chester Garretson shouted, "Can't we make it ten dollars?"

Young Harold Peters needed no further inspiration and, seizing his cap, went among his schoolmates and collected enough pennies, nickels, and dimes to secure the sum of $10.05.

DOCTOR LOSES SUIT

Jury Believes Old Minister Had Paid Physician's Fees.

Middleburg, Pa., Dec. 18—After several hours' deliberation, the jury in the $10,000 suit of Dr. E. C. Williams against the Rev. A. S. Bierly, the most sensational and expensive case ever tried in the Snyder county court, on Tuesday afternoon gave a verdict for the defendant.

It was a victory for the aged pastor, and it is likely that the costs which amounted to at least several hundred dollars a day for a week, will have to be paid by the physician.

The jury accepted the story of the clergyman that he had paid in full for medical service to his daughter, Miss Verna, with his $250 check. They also accepted the statement of the experts for the defense that the charges of $100 a visit and $500 a month for attending the girl were "preposterous."

The damaging evidence concerning her relations with Dr. Williams overbalanced evidence she gave against her father and in favor of the man with whom she is now living.

Dr. Williams, like the pastor, is a man of means, and has a large practice at his office in Port Trevorton. The sums involved in the case could well be afforded by either the principals.

SOLDIER GETS JAIL SENTENCE

One Year For Swartzbaugh Who Robbed Hanover Store.

One year in jail was the sentence given to Ray W. Swartzbaugh, a soldier in the United States army and formerly a resident of Hanover, by the York county court, for breaking into the store of C. P. Rutt, of Hanover on December 5 and stealing a lot of clothing valued at $426. The defendant, who pleaded guilty to the charges against him, had no criminal record in that county, but admitted he had been in trouble in Washington. At a recent hearing in York, he said he would not mind staying a year in the York county jail.

deprived of their gifts. After a few minutes, however, the children all agreed to their teacher's suggestion and the total for their gifts and one to Miss Witherow was figured to fall slightly below $10.00.

Rising from his seat and facing his schoolmates eleven year old Chester Garretson shouted, "Can't we make it ten dollars?"

Young Harold Peters needed no further inspiration and, seizing his cap, went among his schoolmates and collected enough pennies, nickels, and dimes to secure the sum of $10.05.

SIGNS OF TREATY COMPROMISE

Senators Agree That Politics Should be Forgotten Now.

ACTION MAY COME SOON

Senator Knox Brings up Document in Midst of Discussion on Railroad Bill.

Washington, December 18—Expressions that seemed to point toward a reopening of the peace treaty fight within a few weeks were voiced on the Senate floor Wednesday when the subject bobbed up in the midst of consideration of the Railroad Bill.

The symposium of views that went into the Record during the brief debate included opinions from virtually all factions of the divided Senate membership, but they all struck a note of conciliation. Differing widely in their suggestions for a solution, they stood together on the general proposition that politics ought to be forgotten and that the Senate, acting independently of executive opinion, ought to do something promptly to end suspense and establish a state of peace.

The discussion reflected the trend of negotiations which have been in progress privately among senators for an agreement that would get the question finally out of the way. There was increased activity in that direction during the day and some of the leaders predicted some formal action early in the new year.

Started by Knox

Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, a leader in the irreconcilable Republican group of treaty opponents and a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, brought the subject to the floor by another attempt to get before the Senate his two resolutions to establish a state of peace. The effort was blocked, but he obtained unanimous consent to send the measures to the committee, where he expects to renew his request for action.

A plea made by Senator Knox for some sort of a settlement was seconded by Senator Smith, of Georgia, a reservation Democrat, who declared the time had come to stop academic discussion of who held up the treaty and get together in a give-and-take effort for compromise. Action also was urged by Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, one of the mild reservation Republicans, and by Senator Myers, of Montana, a Democrat, who voted last session for some reservations and also for unreserved ratification.

In the compromise negotiations proceeding at private conferences among senators the principal activity seemed to be among the Democrats, the Republican reservationists indicating that they awaited some concrete proposal from the other side of the aisle. The Democratic managers were hopeful that such an agreement soon would be reached, but they predicted it would not take tangible form until after the holidays.

Underwood Not In Revolt

Among the Democrats there was much discussion of the possible effect of the compromise negotiations on the contest between Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, and Senator Underwood, of Alabama, for election as Democratic leader of the Senate. The negotiations started Tuesday with the mild reservation Republicans were conducted by Senator Underwood's supporters, but he declared last night that while he stood for some sort of compromise, he was not in revolt against President Wilson nor leading any sort of opposition to the treaty.

Consideration of the first of Senator Knox's resolutions which would ratify the treaty in so far as establishment of a state of peace is concerned was blocked by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, while Senator Nelson stopped the second one, proposing merely to declare that a state of peace exists.

ADOPT CHARTER PREAMBLE

The State Constitutional Commission met for the first time Wednesday as a committee of the whole. The preamble and declaration of rights of the Constitution as it stands were adopted without much discussion. In Pepper went on record as objecting to any change in the jury system of the State, saying that the unanimous verdict in civil cases had been found highly satisfactory. No effort was made to make a change.

FIND NEW CLUE IN DANSEY CASE

Expect Charges to be With-drawn Against White. More Arrests Expected.

Atlantic City, N. J. December 18—New evidence has been discovered in the Billy Dansey case, Prosecutor Edmund C. Gaskill, Jr., announced Wednesday, which he believes will result in the arrest of two men.

"If these men are taken into custody it is understood the charges against Charles S. White, of Hammon-ton, and Mrs. Edith L. Jones, house-keeper, for White's father, will be withdrawn.

White was arrested about 10 days ago, charged with the murder of the 3-year-old boy, and Mrs. Jones was accused of helping to conceal the death.

The boy, according to information reaching Prosecutor Gaskill, was slain in a barn near the White dahlia field and within a mile and a half of the Dansey home in Hammon-ton.

A hole has been found near this barn by county detectives, who believe the boy was buried in it. Afterward, according to the detectives, the corpse was removed and placed in the Folsom woods, where it was discovered by gunners.

"The new information we have received is startling," said Mr. Gaskill, "and maybe the solution of the mystery of the Dansey boy's death. I feel confident that two more arrests will be made in the case. I cannot make public the identity of the two men who are under suspicion.

"County detectives working in conjunction with private detectives employed by the White family, discovered this new clue after taking into consideration the testimony of Mrs. Dansey, the mother, at the inquest. She testified she thought she heard Billy screaming.

"We think it entirely possible now that the mother did hear the boy scream in the dahlia field and that two strange men, whose motive for harming the boy I cannot establish yet, kidnapped the boy to kill him later."

Next Miss Angot Borge, supervisor of music in the Gettysburg Schools, rendered several solos. She was immediately followed by Miss Flora A. Bradford, field secretary of the Junior Red Cross, who spoke on the subject of "Junior Red Cross", saying in part:

"Wonderful has been the help America has sent to the European countries, also the comfort and aid sent to our boys 'over there.' It followed them every step of the way. I have traveled all over the west and studied every branch of the Red Cross. A wonderful spirit of service has come over our nation. Shall we stop with this and spend our energy? The Red Cross is a great emergency organization. After it has had such a vision of service, it will go on by the will of the Christian people, for out of the Christian church has come the great leaders. The returning soldiers will lead it on.

"The Red Cross has a big field to work in. There is the re-building of this shattered world, and a great field in suffering Persia."

"All the world is calling to the American Red Cross for help. We should answer it for the sake of humanity." She pleaded for the financial support of the Peace program.

"May we all in this reconstruction period so weave that the fabric will endure and the colors will not fade. May we hail the dawn of a bright new day in this our own beloved land."

At the completion of this address County Superintendent Roth made a plea for the teacher's support in the work of the Junior Red Cross.

Miss Margaret Maguire as the next speaker said on the subject of "Spirit of Discipline":

"Any discipline that is worth while must reach the spirit of the child. Germany misunderstood the spirit of obedience when she taught obedience to authority. Discipline is the by-product of a splendid well-ordered class room and it comes from living well. Do not give unthinking obedience. The machine trained discipline of the German Army crumbled away when it faced the Americans.

"The boys went singing into battle each one responding to the spirit within. The deadliest thing to put into a child's life is fear. Control with love, kindness and understanding."

"What wonderful enthusiasm there is over welfare work!" "But will there be enough poor people to go around?" —Life.

MEXICO SENDS DEFIANT NOTE

Refuses to Stop Legal Proceedings Against Agent Jenkins.

THE REPLY IS DEFIANT

He Will be Tried in Court. Mexico Wants no Dictation From the United States.

Mexico City, December 18—The Mexican government refuses to relinquish the legal proceedings against William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent at Puebla, in the reply to the latest United States note which has just been forwarded to Washington through the United States Embassy.

The note is defiant in tone and the language in setting forth the attitude of the Mexican government is emphatic.

The note contends that court proceedings affecting an American citizen in Mexico cannot be decided by information supplied by the State Department in Washington, nor by "recommendations" from Washington.

In conclusion the document expresses belief that the Jenkins case will "not affect the harmony, which it is sincerely desired, shall continue between Mexico and the United States."

Text of Note

The reply was forwarded Wednesday by George Summerlin, the American charge d'affaires. He received it from the Mexican Foreign Office late Tuesday night. The text of the note in part follows:

"Your Excellency, Charge d'Affaires George Summerlin:

"With reference to your note of November 30, which Your Excellency transmitted to the Mexican government by order of the United States government, relative to the case of William O. Jenkins, I have the honor to communicate to you that the Mexican government, in answering this note, will confine itself only to a few principal points which it contains without going into strict details, with the object of studying only fixed precedents as according to international jurisprudence and to justify its course in public opinion.

"As Jenkins obtained his liberty by the deposit of bail with the Puebla authorities by a certain American citizen, it is presumed that all ill feeling between both countries disappeared, and that the Jenkins case has taken an entirely different aspect from that which it formerly held.

"The United States government declares that it declines to go into a legal discussion of the various questions arising from the Jenkins case. The Mexican government contrarily to discuss the matter of right in a matter which is naturally judicial, preserves this right if from certain points the evidence is not adequate.

Facts Justify Action

"In its former note the Department of Foreign Affairs explained at length certain points in the belief that the full exposition of the details would justify the legality of the proceedings that have been taken."

MAY VOTE ON TREATY

Questions to be Submitted to College Students.

Students at Gettysburg College will probably be given an opportunity to vote on the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations shortly after their return from the Christmas vacation. The plan has been devised by certain leading college newspapers and it is urged that every college and university in the United States vote on these important questions on January 13. Four propositions are to be voted on as follows:

I favor the ratification of the league and treaty without amendments or reservations.

I am opposed to the ratification of the league and treaty in any form.

I am in favor of the ratification of the treaty and the league, but only with specific reservations as voted by the majority of the Senate

I favor any compromise on the reservation which will make possible the immediate ratification of the treaty and league.

HIGHWAY FORCE OUT

State Has Snow Removal Service on Some Roads.

The State Highway Department got an opportunity Wednesday to test its snow removal service in some of the mountain counties of the State. County road superintendents Tuesday night ordered the maintenance forces to clear ways on main highways which were found to be so covered as to impede travel. A number of heavy trucks suitable for hauling drags have been sent from here to various places for snow clearing service.

MAY MAKE ARMY STRENGTH 280,000

Reject Proposals For Armed Force of More Than Half Million.

Washington, Dec. 18—Rejection by House and Senate Military Committees of War Department proposals for a regular army of 576,000 officers and men appeared practically certain last night when Chairman Wadsworth predicted that the Senate Committee would fix the strength of the force at about 280,000. The House Committee has already agreed tentatively on approximately similar program.

"There is no question," said Senator Wadsworth, "but that the Senate Committee in its present frame of mind will not fix the number at more than 280,000 and may possibly cut the number more than that."

Senate sub-committee hearings on the bill were concluded Wednesday, while the House committee took up questions as to the future of the National Guard. The Senate committee hoped to have proposals in shape for the full committee after the holidays.

The Military Policy Committee of the American Legion, composed of Allan A. Tukey, Omaha, Nebraska, chairman; Col. Milton J. Foreman, Chicago, and Thomas W. Miller, of Delaware, explained to the sub-committee Wednesday recommendations of the organization as formulated at its recent convention in Minneapolis. Other witnesses were Col. Abel Davis, Chicago, Illinois, National Guard, and Major General John F. O'Ryan, while the House committee heard Col. R. H. Gillette, Troy, New York, of the National Guard Association.

Under the legion's recommendations only a sufficient standing army for police and overseas garrison purposes should be provided. Universal military training for boys 18 to 20 years of age and a general staff "liberalized by an admixture of citizen officers" was recommended. Continuance of the present officers training camps and a separate department of aeronautics also were favored.

Col. Davis suggested a "limited try out" system to fix the number of men to receive military training which he thought with proper national guard provisions would meet objections of opponents of compulsory training and also give the states forces they need.

TWENTY TWO BELOW COLDEST

New York and New England Thermometers Drop Low.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 18—Below zero temperatures were registered last night and early today in parts of New York and New England. The lowest temperature reported to the Weather Bureau was 22 degrees below at Northfield, Vermont, while the next lowest was 20 below at Canton, New York. Zero temperature was registered in New York City, at Boston 6 below, Albany 8 below and Buffalo 2 below.

Philadelphia and Atlantic City temperatures of 4 above were recorded, Baltimore 8 above and Washington 10 above.

The Weather Bureau forecasts that the temperature will moderate somewhat in the Middle Atlantic and New England states, the Ohio valley and the Lower Lake region during tonight and Friday.

MAY RESUME TREATY FIGHT

Efforts to Be Made to Declare War at an End.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 18—Possibility that the Senate Peace Treaty fight may be resumed actively before the holiday recess developed today when the Foreign Relations committee called a meeting for Saturday morning. The purpose of the meeting was not announced but party leaders indicated that an effort would probably be made to get the committee to act on the resolution of Senator Knox, Republican, Pennsylvania, to declare a state of peace.

RECOVER EXTRAVAGANCES

Getting Back Money Improperly Spent By Housing Corporation.

Washington, Dec. 18—The Senate committee appointed to investigate public buildings constructed during the war under the supervision of the Housing Corporation recommended to the Senate today that steps be taken to recover money which, it is charged, was improperly paid for work done by the corporation.

Should persons or corporations receiving the alleged overcharges refuse to make voluntary restitution the committee recommends that civil action be instituted by the government.

NOT ONE TREMOR IN GETTYSBURG

Day That Was to End World More Quiet Than Usual.

December 17, the day that was to bring with it the end of the world, passed quietly in Gettysburg and although the prediction of Professor Porta brought forth much comment and in some cases argument, the day was quiet probably more so than others of the week. The prediction recalls the fact that ever so often some one gets the idea that it is about time for the great cataclysm.

Astrologers have predicted the end of the world on somewhat similar occasions for centuries. As early as 1186 the world escaped one of their threatened cataclysms. Disappointment at the escape did not prevent Stoffer from predicting a universal deluge for the year 1524—a year which, as it turned out, was distinguished for drought.

Mother Shipton, "witch" of Tudor times, was credited with being equally sure that 400 years after her time—in 1881, to be exact—the world would come to an end. The prediction caused much agitation in England when the date she set arrived. Thousands of persons deserted their homes and went out into the fields to await annihilation.

Various religious cults have made a specialty in more recent years of specifying an hour as the earth's last, setting forth scriptural or pseudo-scientific arguments in support of their contentions.

Professor Albert F. Porta, a meteorologist, gets the credit for first thinking up the recent catastrophe.

RAIL BILL IN SENATE

Section Dealing With Labor And Strikes Discussed.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, December 18—Resuming consideration of the railroad bill today the Senate took up the most disputed section—that dealing with labor including anti-strike provisions.

Under unanimous consent agreement to a vote will be had first on the motion of Senator Stanley, Democrat, Ky., to strike out the entire labor section. If that is defeated substitutes proposed by Senators McCormick, Republican, Illinois, and Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, will then be considered.

SPORTING COLUMN

In order that they will be in best possible condition upon their return to College for their Christmas vacation coach Doyle Leathers has requested members of the basketball squad to continue light training while they are at their homes. The students return here on January 6, and two days later Frederick Y. M. C. A. containing Harry LeGore, famous Yale athlete, in its line up will appear at Gettysburg for the opening contest.

During the past month Coach Leathers has held strenuous work outs in the gymnasium every night excepting Saturdays and Sundays and the squad is gradually rounding into form although some defects will have to be obliterated before the season can expect to be a success.

Three Gettysburg town boys, namely Bream, Mundorff and Miller, are playing at forwards and center, respectively, and hard work will be required by Stewart, Turkes or any of the other candidates to dislodge any of the trio. "Speedy" Baker, the auburn haired guard from York, is playing the best game of his career and is apt to dislodge Gingrich from one of the defensive berths. Captain Zeigler will round out the combination to start against Frederick.

Gettysburg sporting enthusiasts have received with satisfaction the news of the success of "Punk" Berryman whose Iowa State College eleven won five out of seven contests including one over University Nebraska conquerors of Syracuse. Berryman, a former State College man, coached Gettysburg in 1916 and was exceedingly popular here.

in vain Wednesday for any sign that an alleged solar conspiracy between the planets Neptune, Jupiter, et al, was about to produce storms which would bring the world to a sudden end.

The best the weather men could make out of the signs as they read them, was that low pressure areas off the north Atlantic coast and in the far northwest had combined to bring low temperatures generally throughout the country, except along the southwestern border. The outlook for Friday, the official forecaster said, was for local snow storms in the Great Lakes region and fair weather elsewhere east of the Mississippi river.

TO ERECT TWO NEW BUILDINGS

State Orders Plans Drawn For First Structures to House Health Department.

State authorities have authorized Arnold W. Brunner, architect for the proposed Capitol office buildings and the Capitol Park improvements, to make plans for two office buildings, instead of one. The last Legislature appropriated $1,250,000 for the construction of one building, which will be located to the east of the south wing of the Capitol and which will house the Health Department and other departments now in the main building. While these plans are being completed, it is the idea to make others for a similar structure to be erected to the east of the north wing and to care for the Highway and Agricultural Departments.

Both of these buildings will be in the park extension and the intention is to have the plans all prepared for the second building when the Legislature meets and asks an appropriation for construction.

SPORTING COLUMN

In order that they will be in best possible condition upon their return to College from their Christmas vacation coach Doyle Leathers has requested members of the basketball squad to continue light training while they are at their homes. The students return here on January 6 and two days later Frederick Y. M. C. A. containing Harry LaGore, famous Yale athlete, in its line up will appear at Gettysburg for the opening contest.

During the past month Coach Leathers has held strenuous work outs in the gymnasium every night excepting Saturdays and Sundays and the squad is gradually rounding into form although some defects will have to be obliterated before the season can expect to be a success.

Three Gettysburg town boys, namely Bream, Mandorff and Miller, are playing at forwards and center, respectively, and hard work will be required by Stewart, Turkes or any of the other candidates to dislodge any of the trio. "Speedy" Baker, the Auburn haired guard from York, is playing the best game of his career and is apt to dislodge Gingrich from one of the defensive berths. Captain Zeigler will round out the combination to start against Frederick.

Gettysburg sporting enthusiasts have received with satisfaction the news of the success of "Punk" Berryman whose Iowa State College eleven won five out of seven contests including one over University Nebraska conquerors of Syracuse. Berryman, a former State College man, coached Gettysburg in 1916 and was exceedingly popular here.

in vain Wednesday for any sign that an alleged solar conspiracy between the planets Neptune, Jupiter, et al, was about to produce storms which would bring the world to a sudden end.

The best the weather men could make out of the signs as they read them, was that low pressure areas off the north Atlantic coast and in the far northwest had combined to bring low temperatures generally throughout the country, except along the southwestern border. The outlook for Friday, the official forecaster said, was for local snow storms in the Great Lakes region and fair weather elsewhere east of the Mississippi river.

In pruning fruit trees the elimination of diseases should be given considerable attention, since pruning operations can be used to help in the control of a number of diseases.

ADAMS POTATO GROWER

One of Counties Having Yield of More Than 100 Bushels Per Acre.

Adams county ranks among the leading potato growing counties of Pennsylvania with an average yield of 117 bushels to the acre, according to reports just issued by the State Department of Agriculture.

According to figures announced by the Department, yields of over 100 bushels of potatoes to the acre have been reported by 39 counties of the State. Every county in Pennsylvania raises potatoes and the general average for the State is estimated at 102 bushels per acre, the total crop being about 26,000,000 bushels. Lehigh leads the list with 2,863,500 bushels, Lancaster being next with 1,182,000, followed by York with 1,150,000 and Berks with 1,125,300. Lehigh, Luzerne, Potter and Susquehanna led the average list with 135 bushels per acre, followed by Wyoming with 130, Fulton with 127, Clearfield with 124, Northampton and Tioga 120, Schuylkill 119, Adams 117, Blair and Columbia 115 and Cumberland 114. The Agricultural Department figures show the result of the new crop survey and Lehigh gains about 1,000,000 bushels. Special warnings are being given to potato growers all over the State to be careful in selection of their seed potatoes for next year, owing to blight and the growing of immune varieties is strongly urged.

A SILO COCKTAIL

Farmhands Make Discovery That Kicks All the Way Down.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 18.—Ex-Senator William Finn, who has a farm in O'Hara township, noticed plugged holes in his farm silos and found a spigot in the barn. Investigation proved that the farm hands were drawing silo juice, mixing it with red pepper and burnt rye, and getting a drink with a kick like white lightning.
